Frances Amper Sales was an extraordinary woman who lived a long and fulfilling life. Born in a small town in the early 1900s, she overcame poverty, discrimination, and adversity to achieve great success. She was a pioneer in her field, a devoted wife and mother, and a true inspiration to all who knew her.

In her autobiography, Stories From My Life, Frances shares the remarkable events that shaped her life. From her childhood adventures to her groundbreaking work in education, these stories offer a glimpse into the mind and heart of a truly exceptional woman.

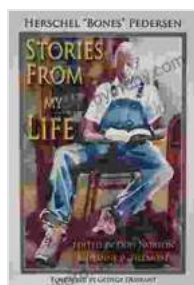

Frances's story is a testament to the power of resilience. She faced countless challenges throughout her life, but she never gave up on her dreams. She believed that anything was possible if you worked hard and never gave up. Her determination and perseverance are an inspiration to us all.

Frances was also a devoted wife and mother. She raised a family of five children, and she always put their needs first. She was a loving and supportive mother, and she taught her children the importance of education, hard work, and compassion.

In addition to her family and work, Frances was also a passionate advocate for social justice. She believed that everyone deserved a fair chance in life, regardless of their race, gender, or religion. She worked tirelessly to promote equality and opportunity for all.

Her autobiography offers a glimpse into the life of a remarkable woman who overcame adversity to achieve great success. Her story is an inspiration to us all to never give up on our dreams, no matter what challenges we may face.
